Licensing on-premises products in CSP

Perpetual licenses

- A single, upfront payment is made for perpetual ownership of the license
- No Software Assurance is available to purchase, and no SA benefits are included as part of the license rights
- Use rights are detailed in the Product Terms (http://bit.ly/2W2vj38), and are consistent across the different ways that customers can buy licenses

Deployment options

Physical or virtual servers
Server licenses are assigned to a physical server and the product may be deployed in a physical or a virtual operating system environment

Network server usage
Servers must be dedicated to a single customer's use, provided by the customer or an Authorized Outsourcer

License reassignment

90-day rule applies
Licenses may be reassigned between devices or users, but no more frequently than every 90 days

Exceptions
- Permanent hardware failure
- Termination of a user's employment
- Temporary reallocation for a user's absence or a device that is out of service

Accessing software and keys

Microsoft 365 Admin Center
Customers can access keys and software directly through the Microsoft 365 Admin Center after purchase

Versions available
- The current and previous two versions (n-2) are available
- Customers may use existing legally obtained media to install previous versions

Upgrade and downgrade rights

Current version
- A license is purchased for the current version
- If a later version is released, there are no rights to this version

Downgrade rights
- Any prior version may be used
- Permitted lower editions may be used
